Biography

Educational: graduated Columbia (Ms) High School, 1967; graduated University of Southern Mississippi in 1971 with a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration with a major in accounting. Attended the University of Mississippi Law School from 1971-1973 and received a Juris Doctor degree.

Work Experience: 1973-1977 employed by Dollar General Corporation, a discount retail operation, in Columbia, Mississippi. Initial year worked in the accounting department in various phases of the operation, but with primary emphasis on financial statement preparation. Became a district supervisor over twelve Mississippi store locations with responsibility for all areas of retail operation. Final year was area supervisor over Mississippi and Louisiana operations.

1977-1983: Moved to West Point, Mississippi, as part owner, full-time general manager of a local motel. Other partners included Bernard J. Ebbers and Carl J. Aycock, both of Brookhaven, Mississippi. One year later purchased the other partners' interest and continued to operate the motel until my interest was sold in the spring of 1983. Was responsible for all facets of operations including accounting, payroll, employee training, and maintenance.

1983-1987: Employed by Master Corporation, Brookhaven, Mississippi, (principal owner—Bernard J. Ebbers) as director of operations for its motel group. Moved to Brookhaven and was fully responsible for all areas of motel operation. While employed by Master Corporation, was one of the initial investors in a startup venture, styled LDDS, which later evolved into MCI-WorldCom. Served on the Board of Directors of LDDS/Worldcom from 1983 until 1994. Resigned my motel position in February 1987, to pursue a biblical teaching ministry.

1987—present: Have continued to teach the word of God on a regular basis within my church affiliation and overseas. Professionally, I have managed a private investment portfolio.

Family: Am most joyfully married to Linda King Dunnaway, from Louisville, Mississippi, and have been for almost twenty-nine years. We have two sons, Andrew K. Dunnaway, age 24, who resides in Oxford, Mississippi, and David E., age 14, who resides with us in Brookhaven.

T. Patric Boggs
President & Chief Executive Officer
EzTel Network Services, Inc.

Prior to joining ezTel, Mr. Boggs was the Senior Vice President, National Sales for erbia Network, Inc., a nationwide provider of telecommunications services.

In addition to being Senior Vice President of National Sales for erbia, Mr. Boggs was President and CEO of erbia Communications, Inc. He played an essential part in erbia's success and development strategy principally because of his 24 years of experience in the telecommunications and financial services industry. He rose to prominence as a consistent top level producer and also worked as an expert witness in the telecommunications industry, where he was also a nationally acclaimed sales trainer and public speaker. He brings an abundance of sales, marketing, and administrative talents to ezTel's management team. His track record in negotiating and delivering true win-win relationships in major contracts and in building a team fundamental to develop and manage a nationwide sales force, have contributed to erbia becoming one of the nation's fastest growing full service telecommunications providers.

After co-founding and serving as President of Carey Communications, a company that helped pioneer the private payphone industry throughout the Southeast United States, Mr. Boggs established Advance Communication Techniques. This company, known as ACT, was a full service telecommunications company, whose services included 0+, 1+/800 services, pre-paid phone cards, and international arbitrage. In March 1999, ACT merged with erbia, Inc. and the ACT services were added to aggregate those of erbia, with the absolute goal of furnishing the client a true integrated communications solution. Mr. Boggs was given the responsibility of building and developing a national network of independent agents, re-sellers, and wholesalers.

Making his home in Virginia, Mr. Boggs spends his personal time between his family and directing a nationally known basketball program for young men. His teams have won both State and National Championships. He is extremely proud of the many young men he has mentored and assisted in improving their academic and athletic skills in order to obtain college scholarships. Additionally, Mr. Boggs is active in his community including serving as assistant scoutmaster for a local Boy Scout Troop.
